Booth Location is Important!

Start Planning for NPE 2012 NOW!

Let MJR Communications choose your booth location:

- Saving you Money
- Saving you Time
- Greatly improving your chance for a great location.

Experience has proven that being at the NPE Booth Drawing rather than simply mailing in your application greatly improves the chance of getting the best booth location possible. Rather than spending the money and the time to be in Orlando for two days or more, we will contract to choose the best location possible when your turn comes up. The new venue in Orlando will offer new possibilities for prime exhibit space. Tracking booth locations as the drawing progresses will be more important than ever.

Mike Raftus (MJR Communications) has 33 years experience in magazine publishing and trade shows in the plastics industry . He has picked NPE booths for many companies over these years.
